COME AND TRIP

The light fantastic toe at the Moulders' Dance in aid of the Hospital, Friday night.

Memories of the Old Home.

Dear sacred scenes, how sweet to roam
The hills and vales of my old home;
The passing years may come and go,
My eyes grow dim, my steps be slow;
Yet while life lasts I will revere
That one green spot to me so dear.
Blest memories of bygone years,
Filled out with joys and hopes and fears;
Shades of dear comrades, gone before,
Awaiting on the shore;
Oh! with what joy we'll meet you there!
Eternal friendship then to share!

PORT HOPE

The great possibilities for Fruit Growing in these United Counties of Northumberland and Durham have not been known in the past, but this year our Counties have won world-wide fame through the fine exhibit of apples made by these counties at the Flower, Fruit and Honey Show at Toronto, and which exhibit was sold to the Dominion Government to be put on exhibition at the Festival of Empire in London, E.C., next summer.

In order that fruit men and others in these counties may become better acquainted with the best methods of packing, of spraying, of cultivating and of general orchard management. Special Fruit Institutes have been arranged for by the Farmers' Clubs of Elmview, Welcome, and Garden Hill, through the efforts of R. S. Duncan, District Representative, Port Hope.

The Fruit Men have each year new problems to face. Diseases and insect pests of the orchard are steadily on the increase, and the Fruit Grower of to-day, to be successful, must study and acquaint himself with the nature of these troubles in order to combat them. These Fruit Institutes are the very places to obtain such knowledge. Make it a point to be present.

Live practical men who are qualified to discuss all questions relating to fruit growing have been secured for these meetings. Mr. J. W. Crow, Professor of Pomology, O. A. C., Guelph, and Mr. I. P. Carey, of the Dominion Fruit Branch, Ottawa, and other capable orchard men, will be present to give addresses and demonstrations. Come prepared to ask questions and to take part in the discussions.

Men's Association

Of the Methodist Church Hold a Successful Meeting.

The inaugural meeting of the Men's Association of the Methodist Church was held last Tuesday evening, with a goodly number present.

After a very encouraging address from the President, Mr. W. Marsh, and the different committees being appointed, namely, Social, Literary, Athletic and Religious, a well rendered program was given under the direction of the Social Committee.

During the course of the evening, an impromptu speech by Mr. H. White, on a question of interest to Methodists of Port Hope, was listened to very attentively.

The chief object of the Association is to create a more friendly and social spirit among the men of the congregation. These meetings will be held the third Tuesday evening of each month, at eight o'clock. The next meeting will be under the direction of the Literary Committee, and a very profitable evening is looked forward to. After lunch was served, the meeting closed with prayer by Mr. W. B. Perry.

Messrs. Jno. W. Martin, A. E. Meadows and W. A. Walker addressed Council asking for a larger grant for the Agricultural Society. They desired a grant of $100 to help them increase their prize list.

The Secretary of the Society, Mr. H. A. Walker, being asked by the Council what he thought of erecting some buildings in Town Park for exhibition purposes, said he thought a large tent preferable to small buildings put up in park in the locality where they would be allowed to erect them.

The Reeve told the Deputation that the Council would carefully consider their appeal for an increased grant.

Moved by Messrs Edwards and Greenaway that we do now receive the auditor's report.

Messrs W. H. Inch and F. R. Currelley, Auditors, presented their report and after reading the abstract statement they said they found the Collector's Roll and Treasurer's book remarkably clean, neat and accurately kept. They found vouchers for all payments. The report was on motion of Messrs. Edwards and Martin received the auditor's to receive $10 each for their services and the Clerk was instructed to have 150 copies printed for distribution among the ratepayers.

Dr. R. A. Corbett applied to the Council to have the road he had asked to have opened last year attended to at their earliest convenience as he had considerable teaming to do as soon as the road is opened up for public travel.

Mr. Edwards gave notice that he would at next meeting of Council introduce a by-law for the appointing of pathmasters, pound keepers and fence viewers. If any ratepayers have any objections to present pathmasters let them govern themselves accordingly.

Mr. W. A. Walker addressed the Council re the opening of road west of Osaca station. He suggested to at least spending enough money at the earliest opportunity to open the road for public travel.

Moved by Messrs Edwards and Caldwell, that the Clerk notify the C. N. R. authorities that the Council intend opening the road between lots 30 and 31 between the 4th and 5th con., and we request that a proper road crossing be put in on this road west of Osaca station forthwith. The Council have also decided to open for public travel the 5th con. line and they request a similar road crossing at this place.

Moved by Messrs. Edwards and Greenaway, that Messrs. Caldwell and Martin and the Reeve be a Committee to ask the C. N. R. authorities to build a road from the road to be opened west of Osaca to the Osaca station.

The Reeve stated that the Board of Railway Commissions had recommended some protection at the Choate crossing of the Midland Division of the G. T. R. and as the trains are said to pass this crossing at much too rapid a speed, the Clerk be instructed to request the Board of Railway Commissioners to order protection at this crossing forthwith, and also at the crossing at the gravel road north of Garden Hill.

Messrs. Greenaway and Martin were appointed to look after the sale of some trees near Wm. A. McDermott's, Wm. Ryan's and opposite the property of the late Wm. Darling.

Moved by Messrs. Martin and Greenaway that we make a grant of $75 to the Hope and Port Hope Agricultural Society.

Council adjourned to meet March 15th, 1911, at 1.30 o'clock sharp in the Clerk's new office, Toronto Bank Block.

THE PERISHABILITY OF RICHES

One of the facilities which the provisions of the Canadian Government Annuities Act affords, is that given to old people of investing their capital with absolute security and safety, and with a much greater return than any other form of investment will give them. A woman of 80 years of age living in one of the small villages in Ontario, and who has outlived all her near relatives, has a deposit in the Savings Bank of $1,500 which is all that remains of a very considerable fortune left by her husband, who predeceased her nearly fifty years ago. This amount is earning her an income of $45 a year, that needless to say, is not sufficient to provide her with the necessities of life, and the poor house would ultimately have been her only destiny, as in a little less than six years she would have spent the remainder of her capital, as her living expenses are over $300 a year.

One day the little booklet "Comfort and Happiness" found its way into the ladies hands. She perused it carefully and considered its statements thoughtfully, and with the result that she is advised to transfer her $1,500 to the Government. She will then receive an income of $288 every year instead of $45, and the probability is that her life will be very much extended. Certainly her happiness and comfort while she lives will be increased as the difference of $243 a year in her income will mean to her all the difference between poverty and affluence. She may live to be 100—her paternal grandfather did. Particulars concerning this provident system of investment may be had from your Postmaster, or from the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters may be addressed postage free.

LARGEST MAN IN TEXAS.—Lomb Graves, the largest man in the State of Texas, has just died at San Antonio. Grave was a giant in stature, standing 7 feet 3 inches tall, and weighed when in health 350 pounds. He was a farmer by occupation and resided in Bexar county five years. It is said of him that he possessed the strength of three ordinary men and could tame horses and other animals into submission by sheer force. But while he was a giant both in size and strength, he was known as a kindly man and avoided notoriety. Many amusement enterprises made him flatteringly offers to go on exhibition, but they were always rejected. On account of his size the undertaker who was called at the time of his death found it impossible to get a coffin large enough and the body lies in a morgue in San Antonio awaiting the arrival of a specially ordered casket. It is believed that Graves was the tallest man, not only in Texas, but in the United States. He was 53 years old and unmarried.

CANADA'S CHANCE

Hon. Mr. Lemieux Says She Should Not Neglect It.

BENEFITS TO FISHERMEN

Mr. Kyte of Richmond, N.S., Says Natural Market of His Province Is In the United States — Postmaster-General Says Great Britain Manages to Maintain Her Nationality and Trades Everywhere.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—Geo. Kyte (Richmond, N.S.), continuing the debate on the reciprocity agreement, gave an enthusiastic endorsement of the Government's proposals, more particularly because of the good effect he said they would have on the industries of the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Kyte said that with the exception of coal and steel, reciprocity between the Maritime Provinces and Ontario and Quebec had consisted in an exchange of the manufactured products of the latter for the cash currency of the people by the sea. At times, he admitted, there was a market for Maritime products in mid-Canada, and fish to a limited extent came as far west as Montreal, but the natural market for both products was to be found in the United States. The people of the Maritime Provinces had been trying to coax the residents of this part of Canada to buy their fish, but with little success.

Dr. Sproule (E. Grey) replied the argument of Mr. Kyte that there was no inter-provincial or English trade in fish by showing that out of $15,000,000 fish produced last year $5,209,000 had gone to England, but only $1,627,000 to the United States.

Was it a wise policy to say, as the member for Richmond argued, that the natural resources of Canada were for to-day and not for to-morrow. "What about posterity?" asked Dr. Sproule.

Canada wanted nothing but the opportunity to work out her own problems, and to preserve the home market for Canadian farmers. In support of this demand Dr. Sproule pointed out that until the duty of three cents per pound had been placed on fresh meat the Canadian industry was dormant. So, too, the prohibition of the import of process butter and filled cheese had developed the native industry, and these Canadian products had a leading reputation in the markets of the world. In the horse-breeding industry he said that the splendid stock of the eastern provinces would be driven out of its natural market in the west through competition with the cheap and broncho.

"Reciprocity can mean only one thing," said Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, "the development, progress and ultimate grandeur of both countries." He twitted Dr. Sproule for being sentimental, reminiscent and witty in propounding his "tale of woe."

"Granted," he said, "that we have good times, but our policy is to have better times. Granted that we have good markets, which we, of the Liberal party have created (applause), we want better markets still; and let my hon. friend (Dr. Sproule) add this line: Yes, and let Canada with better times and better markets work out its own destiny under the aegis of the British flag."

"Let us," he said, "rise to the proper height; let us not be little Canada; let us trust ourselves in this bargain with the United States."

"Canada can absorb the United States. The United States materially cannot absorb Canada. Mr. Borden's motto was to let well enough alone. In view of the wonderful heritage of Canadians we could afford to adopt as a substitute for that motto: 'Let us open wide the gates of the country; let us not be afraid to bargain and to trade with our neighbors.'"

Mr. Lemieux emphasized his point by declaring that Great Britain was not afraid to trade east and west, north and south.

Companies May Appeal.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—The C.P.R. and the C.N.R. were yesterday given leave to appeal to the Supreme Court by the Railway Commission against the ruling of the board in the Regina case, judgment which was handed down on Dec. 10 last.

HON. MR. MACKAY'S TELLING SPEECH

scheme, and had the Government accepted it and appointed a commission to make the necessary inquiry and obtain the necessary information; something practical might be the result in the immediate future. I cannot help thinking, Sir, that if this Government had accepted this suggestion and had sent a commission out to ascertain all facts pertaining to the technical and industrial conditions of this province, the information thus obtained would have fitted in with and would have been supplemental to any information that the report of the Dominion Government commission may contain. The latter commission does well in ascertaining industrial and labor conditions here and elsewhere not only in this country but several other countries; but we, Sir, priding ourselves on being the banner province of the Dominion, might well have acted upon our own initiative, and as a result of concurrent work ascertained more minutely the requirements of this particular province. Then, Sir, we could have availed ourselves of the work of the Dominion commission and at the same time have had the question from an internal standpoint dealt more exhaustively with by our own commission. As an incidental advantage, the educational effect of a properly selected commission moving from town to town and city to city throughout the province would have been distinctly felt and would have done very much towards crystallizing the views of municipal officers, boards of trade, boards of education, and employers of labor on this extremely important question.

Contrast With Germany.

There is a marked difference between our educational system and that of other countries which have given the question of industrial education serious consideration. Perhaps in this province, considering we are a young country, the school of culture has too much predominated. The marked distinction between our school system and that of Germany, for example, is, that our continuation classes are still entirely scholastic, whereas Germany says to her children:

"I will give you an education sufficient for ordinary life up to the end of your common school course. After that you must begin to think of this as a practical world, and I, the state, will assist you in a practical way, so that you may earn an honest living."

The result is that continuation classes in Germany become continuation industrial schools. Of these there are some 2,200, attended by 350,000 pupils. After a two-year's course in these industrial schools the young man specializes and attends higher technical schools and institutes.

We believe it is the duty of the state to give to the child of the state such education as may hereafter make him the best citizen of the state. It becomes a very grave and important question whether this province might not, whether this province ought not, to give such practical assistance as will enable the youth of the province the better and easier to make a livelihood. My contention is, Sir, that we ought to establish in every industrial centre an "evening industrial school" to supplement the work of the workshop. These schools ought to be of such a general character as to reach out to all the lads in the workshops, and ought not to be confined to those who are fortunate enough to reach a high school or collegiate institute status.

It is a matter of extreme regret that this Government has not taken more active steps, that it has not put itself in a position to take more active steps than it has done, and that the speech from the throne merely says:

"That the necessity is becoming more obvious day by day for a system of technical and industrial education."

Provincial Aid for Schools.

Last year, Sir, I produced figures to show what the province is doing by way of aiding in the education of certain classes of people. I then made clear the fact that the provincial grants to public and separate schools amount annually to $1.38 for each pupil attending the same; the grants to high schools and collegiate institutes to $4.66 per pupil; the grants to normal and model schools amount to $112.43 per pupil; the grants to Toronto University $126.36 per pupil. It is difficult to figure exactly what the average grant to agricultural colleges per pupil is, although some substantial aid is given; but, Sir, when we come to a very deserving class, the industrial school class, a far different story is told. This province practically says to the lad from thirteen to seventeen years of age who is perforce driven from school to earn a livelihood in the workshop that it has no concern for him, that it has neither moral nor financial obligation with reference to him. Sir, last year we assisted 4,500 odd public and separate school pupils at the rate of $1.38 per pupil; we assisted 3,100 odd high school and collegiate institute pupils at the rate of $4.66 per pupil; we assisted 438 normal and model school pupils at the rate of $112.43 per capita, and we assisted 3,950 university students at a rate of $126.00 per pupil. Thus does this province follow from stage to stage those who are financially able to attend our schools and colleges thus to attain a liberal education; but when it comes to the lad whom chill penury at an early age drives to the workshop, the province says to him, we are under no moral or financial responsibility with reference to you and we will make no provision whatever for your further education. I say, Sir, that until some different scheme is properly worked out that will have due regard to the moral and financial responsibility of this province with reference to the industrial classes the educational system of this province will be but ill-balanced and the state will not be doing what it should do for the large number of young men and young women we find in all our industrial centres.

The Hydro-Electric Problem.

Sir, I confess frankly that I have not as much confidence in the successful working out of this scheme as has, apparently, the framer of the speech from the throne. There has been already so much misconduct and mismanagement on the part of the commission as not to justify the highest hopes with reference to the future. Last year we criticized at length the inequitable and unfair way in which the commission obtained their assessments. We have also heretofore dealt with the absolutely tyrannical legislation whereby the votes taken in fourteen municipalities upon one question were made to do service for an entirely different scheme. It will be recalled that by-laws were submitted in some fifteen municipalities in Western Ontario; the question then submitted to the ratepayer was, whether he was willing to pay a certain fixed figure for power delivered by the commission at the rate of his town or city. The ratepayer in that case was not called upon to make any inquiry as to the original cost, or as to the cost of transmission, but had only to decide the very simple question whether power delivered at the door of his municipality at a certain price was cheap power or not. That called for no investigation whatever upon the part of the ratepayers, and these by-laws were carried in some fifteen municipalities. Then, the Government entirely changed its scheme and instead of delivering, at a certain figure, power at the gates of the municipalities in question, it offered to sell power to the municipalities at Niagara at a certain price and to compel the municipalities to stand the cost of building and maintaining transmission lines, etc., let that cost be what it might. This was an entirely different scheme. Our view then was that when the Government and the commission entirely changed its scheme, the new scheme should have been submitted to the municipalities and the ratepayers given the opportunity of saying whether they voted yes or nay on this new scheme. This the Government absolutely refused them, and the vote that was given for one proposition was taken as a test for an entirely different one, and legislation was passed as though they had voted and favored the present scheme. Our contention then was, and now is, that the people should have been trusted and the present scheme should have been submitted to the people of the municipalities for their approval or disapproval.

There is another phase of this question deserving serious consideration, as the matter is being at present worked out, the credit of the whole province is pledged for the benefit of a few municipalities in order that cheap power may be obtained for these municipalities. The absolute unfairness of this plan is better seen if we take specific illustrations of how it works out. For example, Bracebridge the other day held a banquet as a result of the successful opening of their power scheme. What did Bracebridge require to do? Bracebridge was required to submit its scheme to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, a creature of the Government, and when their scheme had been approved of by the Municipal Board, Bracebridge was obliged to sell its own debentures. They sold at 98 1/2% bearing, I think, 4 1/2 per cent. interest. Now, contrast this method of procedure towards obtaining cheap power as, let us say, between Bracebridge and Welland. The province as a whole, Bracebridge included, is compelled to furnish cheap money and cheap power for Welland, but in turn the province as a whole, including Welland, does not endorse Bracebridge, and does not assist Bracebridge in obtaining cheap power. The result is that Bracebridge loses $150 per hundred on the sale of its debentures and pays 4 1/2 per cent. interest, whereas Welland loses nothing on the sale, and gets its money at about 3 1/2 per cent.

There can be but one result of this whole scheme if successful; namely, that it will induce intending manufacturers to locate in the Niagara Peninsula rather than in the different towns and cities throughout the province. Nay, Sir, it may go so far as to take away factories already existing in other towns and change them to near the Falls. I leave it with the Government to say whether as representing the whole province they think such a scheme is fair and equitable to the whole province. And this raises the further question whether a uniform flat rate would not be more equitable even within the electric zone.

Reforestation.

I regret that I do not find any reference whatever to a very important subject, perhaps one of the largest question which the Honorable the Minister of Lands and Forests has to deal with, namely, that of reforestation. I think, Sir, the Government has been sufficiently long in power and the necessity of the conservation of our forests has been put so plainly, and so often, before the Government from this side of the House that the public might now expect a well-defined plan of forest conservation and of reforestation.

Peopling the Northland.

The honorable member for South Norfolk spoke of the population of Ontario. In that connection, Sir, I desire to raise the question whether we are doing as a province all that might be done to obtain desirable immigrants; whether the province is at all doing its duty towards peopling our Northland? Sir, we know what the result of a vigorous Dominion immigration policy has done for the West, and I think this Government might well take a leaf out of their book and show more initiative, zeal and energy as to the important question of obtaining settlers for the fertile agricultural lands of North Ontario. Sir, this Government in that respect ought to awaken out of its sleep, and ought at once to institute an active propaganda in favor of peopling our own Hinterland. We know something, Sir, of the rapid progress of the West, Calgary, for example, last year boasted a population of 39,000 or 35,000. This year she claims 51,000. Similarly Edmonton's population last year was about 29,000, now it is claimed that it is 30,000. The population of the agricultural lands of that province is increasing in about the same proportion. This Government claims that we have as fertile lands in Northern Ontario as will be found in the West, why then, is not something practical and tangible being done towards securing population.

That Three-Fifths Clause.

I was rather amused with the ideas expressed by the honorable member for South Norfolk with reference to local option. He expressed the idea that a grand work had been accomplished for temperance within a certain time past, because of the fact that 263 municipalities had in that time adopted local option, that 596 hotel licenses had been cut off, and 16 shop licenses removed. This under the present law he said was a "splendid result." I would like to ask the honorable gentleman whether he is not falling into the logical fallacy of proving either too little or too much? If it was a splendid thing under the three-fifths clause to have cut off 596 licenses, would it not have been a much more splendid thing to have cut off seven or eight hundred under a majority vote? What says the honorable gentleman? He sits silent, while the ridiculousness and the absurdity of his argument is apparent even to himself. He pledges himself to stand where he has always stood, namely, for the three-fifths clause. We, Sir, on this side of the House have ever stood on safer ground. We have maintained that so long as the vote taken in any particular municipality has no bearing as to results outside of that municipality that it should be treated as an ordinary municipal vote, and that a majority should rule. Examine the present Act, and see what anomalous and ridiculous results it leads to: In a certain town you have two voters, John Smith and John Brown. John Smith is a local optionist, John Brown is an anti-local optionist. Prior to the submission for the first time of the local option measure, according to the present law John Brown's vote was worth one-and-a-half times John Smith's. The moment, however, local option is carried, notwithstanding that these same two men are living and voting in the same town under similar conditions the situation is reversed, and John Smith's vote becomes worth one-and-a-half of John Brown's. A law that produces such results would do credit to a sleight-of-hand man, or a Japanese juggler, but it is not at all creditable to a British Legislature. The only sound position to take, Mr. Speaker, is the one I stand upon, namely, "one man, one vote, and every vote of equal value."

We have, Sir, divided the House for five successive sessions; upon this question, and we will continue to divide it until the true principle of legislation is recognized and adopted. I, Sir, have taken that position, and intend to continue taking that position regardless of who is hit. He would ask to have the dice loaded in his favor, and he would be just as mean a friend of the trade who would make such a request. I repeat, Sir, that the dice should not be loaded for or against either party. If a municipality desires to adopt local option, the voice of the majority should rule. If, after having had an experience of local option, that municipality desires to return to the license system in preference to local option, again the majority should rule. The people who live under a law for three years, day in and day out, know more about its workings than any Government sitting in Queen's Park, be that Government Liberal or Conservative. Trust the people, and allow the people to deal with the matter fairly.

Found Dead In Bed.

Montreal, Feb. 22.—Ovid Miner Gould, one of Montreal's best known business men, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning by his brother, Joseph, at the latter's home, 287 Peel street. The physician who was called, stated that life had been extinct several hours.

Mr. Gould complained the day before of feeling unwell and a doctor was called. It was discovered that one of the valves of his heart was affected.

About twenty years ago Mr. Gould formed the cold storage company which bears his name, and of which he was a director and general manager. He is survived by one brother, Joseph Gould, Jr., Joseph Gould, Jr., librarian at McGill University, is his nephew.

Radial Motorman Brutally Assaulted.

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 22.—Motorman Charles Anderson, employed on the Windsor, Sandwich & Amherstburg Railway, was found lying face downward in a pool of blood on the floor of his car in an unconscious condition by his conductor, Abraham Derbyshire, about 10.30 Monday night.

It is thought that Anderson was assaulted by some one who mistook him for the conductor with intent to commit robbery.

Failed to Consult Interests.

Washington, Feb. 22.—By address questioning Senator Hale of Maine yesterday in opposing the Canadian reciprocity agreement in the hearings given by the Senate committee on finance put into the record statements by witnesses that President Taft, Secretary of State Knox and the American commissioners had failed to consult the interests affected by the agreement negotiated.

Ontario Government Will Deal With Watered Stock—Later.

JOHNSON STICKS TO BILL

Member For West Hastings Makes Appeal In Behalf of His Bill to Control Mergers and Refuses to Withdraw It to Clear the Way For a Better Measure, Whereupon It Is Slaughtered Ruthlessly.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—Lively passages between the Premier and members who were disinclined to abide by the traditional usages of Parliamentary procedure and a stirring debate on the question of watered stocks, afforded visitors to the Ontario Legislature an interesting afternoon yesterday at the Parliament Buildings. In addition, a number of bills were introduced, or given second or third readings.

Cabinet Ministers and the members paid close attention to the speech of J. W. Johnson, West Hastings, upon the question of watered stock. The sequel was an animated debate with the mover, a Government supporter, refusing to accede to his leader's suggestion to withdraw the bill. The Prime Minister said he had been given to understand that the measure was introduced to enable the mover and the House to discuss the position of affairs with respect to over-capitalization.

All might have gone smoothly but for the fact that Allan Studholme rose with a denunciation of anybody who would be weak-backed enough to withdraw a good measure just because his party didn't like it. Mr. Johnson retorted quickly the imputation and declared that he would press the motion. When the vote was finally taken it was lost, of course, and Mr. Johnson did not call for a division, but it occasioned a very heated debate.

Mr. Johnson declared that watered stock made the poor man poorer and the rich man richer. It was an instrument of tyranny, the evil of which had been exemplified in the United States. It was applied in effecting mergers and combines. The bait held out to the consumer was the promise of an increased production and a reduced price. The results were inevitably the reverse.

The Canadian Express Co. had, Mr. Johnson declared, with a capital asset of $212,000, watered its stock up to $3,000,000, and the Dominion Express Co. had beaten this a long way.

The Canadian Cannery, he said, started by merging thirty-four factories, then the Dominion Cannery added fourteen more. Thirty thousand dollars each would be a high valuation to put on the forty-eight factories, so that $1,440,000 would be the limit of their tangible assets. Yet the capitalization was $5,700,000. The difference of $4,260,000 is watered stock, and the company had, under its charter, the reserve power to issue $12,000,000 more of stock.

In 1910 the company made a profit of $400,000, which was 27 per cent. on its actual assets.

Hon. Mr. Hanna then asked that the bill be withdrawn. Studholme protested, and Mr. Johnson decided to let it stand. Several members joined in the debate, declaring that the bill was inadequate to meet the case.

When the vote was taken the roar of "No's" was like thunder compared to the "Ayes," and Mr. Johnson declared that he would not press for a division.

"Lost," announced the Speaker. Hon. J. S. Duff moved the second reading of the pure milk bill, the provisions of which were recently published. The Minister of Agriculture said that the bill enacted into law the recommendations of the milk commission.

John Shaw, North Toronto, introduced the Toronto City Bill, which embodies the legislation asked for by the Toronto City Council.

A. E. Frapp, Ottawa West (Con.), again introduced his bill to permit municipalities to place a lower rate of taxation on improvements than on land. Mr. Frapp states that this principle is being extensively applied in the west with most satisfactory results in stimulating the holding of unimproved land out of the market.

W. J. McCart, Stormont, (Lib.), felt the crushing power of an adverse majority when he refused to accept a Government suggestion. The incident arose over his motion for an order of the House for a return showing the number of officials, clerks and employees in the various branches of the Provincial Secretary's Department on Feb. 1, 1906, and on Jan. 1, 1911, with the salaries in each case.

Hon. W. J. Hanna expressed a willingness to furnish the return if the "additional work and results" were included.

Mr. McCart objected to any addition to the order. It contained all he wanted to know.

Sir James Whitney said that probably other members of the House would like the complete information. Let them ask for it was Mr. McCart's attitude.

Thereupon the sledge hammer fell. Sir James immediately moved Mr. Hanna's addition as an amendment and the order as amended was finally declared "carried."

On Dr. Lacken's bill to extend the powers of tax collectors to follow taxable goods to any part of the same county. Hon. W. J. Hanna said that the bill as prepared might cause injury to innocent persons who had acquired the goods followed. The bill went to the committee.

G. Patterson's bill to govern the construction of bridges by adjacent municipalities was given a second reading.

Geo. H. Goodenough, South Toronto, introduced a bill to confer on the Ontario Motor League the same powers respecting the erection of road signs as formerly enjoyed by the Canadian Automobile Association.

John Shaw, North Toronto, introduced the Toronto City Bill, which embodies the legislative proposals of the City Council.

Hon. A. G. MacKay gave notice that he would ask the following:

"Has the Government cancelled the charters of any companies, incorporated under the Ontario Companies' Act, on the ground that they have failed to file their annual returns?"

And if so, how many? It appears that the final reports of companies are required to be filed with the Provincial Secretary by Feb. 3 each year. If they fail to be received, letters of warning are sent to the delinquent concerns.

BALFOUR ON LORDS.

He Says an Elective Second Chamber Is Useless.

London, Feb. 22.—The first day's debate on the Government's bill to abolish the veto power of the House of Lords, while it failed to indicate definitely the fate of the measure in the hands of the House of Lords, left no doubt as to the attitude of the Premier.

Mr. Balfour's speech was the great event of the day. He said that the policy of making the House of Lords a purely elective body, in no country, in neither the United States nor France, had that been sound consistent with the predominance of the Lower House. If, therefore, it was wished that the House of Commons predominate, the hereditary principle should be continued. He indicated that he would consent to no change of the constitution which would allow Parliament to pass the home rule bill without this bill having been voted on by the electorate. In other words, he would not acquiesce in the home rule question being submitted to a second chamber differing only from the existing House of Lords in being bereft of its absolute power.

The Unionist members cheered again and again when Mr. Balfour declared that he would fight against a revolution on which the people had not been consulted, carried out, not at the bidding of the majority of the House, but at the bidding of the Nationalist minority.

Creates Plumber a Lord.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—Harry Plate, a plumber of Hanover, who attained the great distinction of being raised to the dignity of life membership in the Prussian House of Lords on the emperor's birthday, is the first artisan who has ever attained such a position.

The new member of this most exclusive body is not a mere theorist, but a man who has had to work at his trade for his living, and he has passed through every grade. He served the usual four years' apprenticeship, then packed his tools and for several years tramped through the German states, Switzerland, Italy and France, working wherever he could find a job. Finally he settled in Hanover, where he eventually set up independently and became prominent in the plumbers' organization and president at several artisans' congresses.

The Prussian House of Lords has hitherto consisted exclusively of members of the nobility, great scientists and educators, manufacturers and commercial men, prominent bankers, mayors of cities and retired military and naval officers.

In selecting Harry Plate to join their councils his majesty has carried out a request formulated in a petition from the last artisans' congress for representation in the lawmaking bodies of Prussia, and this self-made man was indicated to him as the best possible choice he could make for the honor.

Ask Health Officer's Resignation.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—The typhoid troubles of Ottawa have raised considerable criticism of the Board of Health and the medical health officer. There is an accusation of the dereliction of duty of both regarding the entrance of pollution in the water supply. Outspoken public opinion was retaliated to by a proposal by the Board of Health agreeing on its own efficiency and proposing to raise salaries all round in the department. This was the last straw, and the City Council, after a warm debate, asked the Board of Control to reorganize the discredited department.

Last night the controllers asked for the resignation of Dr. Law, medical health officer, around whose head the storm has raged.

Meantime there is a serious move in the city towards government by commission, owing to many acts of the aldermen recently. On this point one newspaper has taken a plebiscite which gives 88 per cent. in favor of Ottawa being made practically a federal district under a commission.

Town Hall on Fire.

Brockville, Feb. 22.—Fire was discovered at an early hour yesterday morning in the basement of Brockville's Town Hall. The police on duty detected the smell of smoke, and on investigation located the blaze. Plumbers had been at work on the premises, and a pot of hot lead ignited the woodwork adjoining.

Ex-Officer Off to Sing Sing.

New York, Feb. 22.—Wm. Montgomery, former president of the Hamilton Bank, which failed in 1907, was sentenced yesterday to no less than two years and two months and not more than five years in Sing Sing Penitentiary for grand larceny. The judge said that crimes of this sort were becoming too prevalent.

Had Fortune, Didn't Know It.

Albany, N.Y., Feb. 22.—When J. E. Herold, a local barber, found an unaddressed but official looking envelope on the street a few days ago, he picked it up and put it in his pocket. Yesterday he was startled to find it contained checks from the State Treasurer's office aggregating $80,565.

Sing Sing Means Slow Death.

HOW BANK KEPT UP

Travers Says He Increased Trust Company's Security.

HYPOTHECATED THE NOTES

Ex-Manager on Stand Declares That He Went to Trust Company For More Money and When They Threatened to Withdraw Their Deposit, Added to Security and Had Debt Consolidated.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—For just about ten minutes at the close of the hearing of the conspiracy charge against the provisional directors of the Farmers' Bank, J. J. Warren and J. R. Stratton, Dr. Beattie Nesbitt and C. H. Smith in the Police Court yesterday afternoon, those present in the court room had one more view of the old dominant Travers, who drove through the organization of the bank, crushing all obstacles before him. And out of the evidence of the closing moments of the hearing it is possible that further charges will be laid to-day.

On a sudden the air of the courtroom grew tense. Matthew Wilson, K.C., counsel for J. J. Warren, had been pressing Travers on cross-examination, seeking to have him say plainly and without qualification that the deposit slip given by the Trust & Guarantee Co. to the bank at the time of the visit of Secretary Knight of the Bankers' Association represented a bona fide transaction.

"Yes," with the added qualification, "as far as it goes," was as far as he could get Travers to go. A moment later Crown Attorney Corley took the witness for re-examination.

"It might as well all come out," said he as he took the witness. He then proceeded to draw from Travers the statement that, in its closing days, the bank owed the Trust company, on a loan secured by Keeley Mine and other stocks, the sum of $175,000, and also a deposit of $120,000, which would rank as an unsecured claim upon the same basis as any other deposit.

Travers declared that he needed more money and went to the Trust company's office to negotiate a further loan. He discussed the affairs of the bank and company with S. C. Morden of the company, and Matthew Wilson, K.C., who was acting as its solicitor. The company proposed to withdraw its deposit of $120,000, but Travers says that he told them that the bank could not meet the withdrawal, but needed more money.

Either Mr. Morden or Mr. Wilson told him that they were not satisfied with the security for the loan, nor with the unsecured condition of the deposits, and someone, Travers could not say whether it was himself or one of the others, suggested that the loan and deposit be consolidated in a new loan for which additional security be put up and that then further moneys might be forthcoming.

Travers pointed out, he said, that under a section of the Bank Act, it was an offence to give one creditor an undue preference over other creditors by way of added securities. He was told that, if this was done under pressure, it would relieve him of criminal responsibility, and that, as they were supplying the pressure, he would be relieved. The loan and deposit were consolidated as a new indebtedness of $250,000, and $300,000 worth of notes were called into the head office of the bank from the branches and put up as security for the consolidated debt.

No money was then advanced nor was Travers able to secure any further advance, but he says that on one of two occasions Mr. Wilson and Mr. Morden told him, when he urged that the bank must have money or close its doors, that it might as well suspend one day as another. This was the story drawn from Travers by Mr. Corley.

At the close of the hearing Mr. Warren stated that the company had been paid the full amount of the loan by Mr. Clarkson. It was afterward stated that this had been done under protest. Mr. Warren asked that it be stated that the Trust company is well and strong financially.

President Munro came up in the County Court to-morrow.

Irish Boycott Coronation.

London, Feb. 22.—At a meeting of the Irish Parliamentary party last night it was decided to abstain from participating in the coronation ceremony. A statement was issued to the effect that the party greatly regretted that the time had not yet come when it would feel free to join other representatives of the King, although the cause of Irish liberty was on the eve of victory. Promise was made that when the King visited Ireland the people would welcome him with generosity and hospitality.

Hardware Men Convene.

Peterboro, Feb. 22.—The sixth annual convention and exhibition of the Ontario Retail Hardware and Stove Dealers' Association was formally opened here yesterday in the armory, with a registered attendance of nearly 400 hardware men and 80 exhibitors. Many delegates are due to arrive by to-day and the convention has every indication of eclipsing all former years in success.

Wall Street Against Reciprocity.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 22.—Congressman E. J. Hill, of Connecticut, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, delivered an address before the local Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon yesterday, in which he charged Wall Street as the source from which all opposition to the reciprocity measure has sprung.

Hull's Chief of Police Accused.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—Charges were made against Chief Marcoux of the Hull police force yesterday. Mrs. Jos. Canadien, during the hearing of a non-support claim against her husband, alleged that Marcoux had made improper overtures to her. He was an ex-member of the Dominion police. He denies the charge.

MR. WARREN'S STATEMENT.

He Says Transactions Were Bona Fide Business.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—J. J. Warren, general manager of the Trust & Guarantee Co., has made a statement regarding his alleged connection with the Farmers' Bank, which he regards as only an ordinary business transaction.

He said, in part: I have lived in this community for almost twenty-five years, during which period, while no doubt I have made mistakes, yet never knowingly did I injure anybody. Without any enquiry or request for information from me, I find myself charged with two offences. One that I conspired with Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, the provisional board of directors and others to do an illegal act. The other that I accepted a pledge of the notes (circulation) of the Farmers' Bank, and therefore made a loan of them as security.

The offences charged are of a technical character. The first one in particular is undoubtedly the invention of a legal mind, whose I do not know yet. The other I am advised is based on a misunderstanding of the Bank Act.

At the time of the alleged committing of the first offence I did not know nor was I acquainted with Dr. Nesbitt or any member of the provisional board. I did not meet Dr. Nesbitt until he ran for mayor. I have never yet met the provisional directors, except Dr. Ferguson.

In the fall of 1906, as an official of the Trust Co., I made W. R. Travers personally a call loan on the security of a large number of satisfactory promissory notes. Counsel advised us that the business was perfectly legal and proper. Ultimately the loan was paid off in full. Moreover, the notes that formed the security were also paid in full.

I was no party to the representations Mr. Travers made at Ottawa. I did not know what they were.

In regard to the other offence, the Farmers' Bank was in the habit of depositing with us their notes (circulation), which we paid out in the ordinary course of our business. The amount of each deposit was placed to the credit of the bank which could and did draw against it by check. We never loaned $5 against the circulation of the Farmers' Bank.

Further, I never made five cents personally out of the Farmers' Bank business; every cent of profit went to the Trust Company, to whom it belonged.

To Break Up Steamship Combine.

Montreal, Feb. 22.—A despatch from London states that the Canadian Pacific Railway is threatening to break up the Atlantic steamship combine unless it receives a greater proportion of the emigrant traffic. G. M. Bosworth, vice-president of the C.P.R., however, when interviewed on the subject yesterday, said that he did not believe that there was anything in it.

The substance of the cable is as follows: "The Canadian Pacific states that unless it is allowed a larger percentage of the North Atlantic emigrant traffic, it will not consent to the continuance of the pool after its expiration next month. As a precautionary measure, this line has already given notice of the termination of all contracts."

A Follow Up Deputation.

THE WOODMEN

Held a Successful Entertainment in Town Hall on Tuesday Evening

The social and entertainment held in the Town Hall Tuesday evening was a decided success. The Woodmen of this town are quite famous for their social evenings, and this one was easily the best they ever held.

A solid two hours program of musical and literary numbers, with every number fairly bursting with good points, kept the crowd on the quiver all the time. Each number was fully appreciated by the large audience, all were so good; yet we cannot refrain from a passing mention of a few. The Thomas Boys Quartette gave two numbers and were heartily endorsed and applauded to the echo. The humorous recitation, "Middleribs Cure for Rheumatism," by our young friend Smith, was well received and warmly endorsed. Mr. R. Smith sang beautifully that bass solo, "The Lighthouse Bell" as few can sing it.

Dr. W. T. Harrison, of Toronto, the head of the Order in Canada, came down to attend the meeting, and gave a very interesting address on the principles of the Order and for fully thirty minutes had the crowd alternating between laughter and applause. The doctor is a born orator, and can handle this usually dry subject very creditably. The very appetizing lunch served at the close was much enjoyed.
